David is Head of Savills Commercial Development business team working directly with Dominic Grace's team covering Central London residential development. David advises developers, occupiers and landlords on commercial development opportunities bringing together Savills teams whose focus is entirely based on adding value to a clients ownership.

He has extensive countrywide experience of long term mixed development projects and has advised on numerous complex schemes throughout the duration of his career. He provides clients with tailored solutions to long term developments, lettings and sales strategies and has been at Savills for 25 years.

Currently David is advising the Stanhope and Schroders scheme at Croydon Gateway, which has consent for 1,600,000 sq.ft of mixed development, advises Development Securities, Morley and DIFA at Paddington, and has recently been appointed by Argent as leasing advisor on the offices to be built at King's Cross, amounting to nearly 4,000,000sq ft.

David has been involved in the London and South-East office section since 1984 and works for a variety of major occupiers in this market such as Yell, United Biscuits, HJ Heinz, Robert Bosch, Pilkington, Oracle and Pricewaterhouse Coopers. David also works with a variety of key institutions and developers across the UK, including Argent at Piccadilly Place, Manchester.

David was Head of Agency at Savills from 2000 to 2004, having previously set up the Savills Business Space Team working around the M25, which remains widely considered to be in the top 3 market practices in this sector.

David is former Chairman of the Office Agents Society, sits on the BCO Recruitment Committee and on the Remuneration Committee for the Commercial Business at Savills.
